Wolf Brief affirms the following under penalty of perjury:

1. I am a plaintiff in this action. I reside in Spring Valley, New York, with my wife and 10 children, and am 45 years old. I am a rabbinical judge in the Bais Din of Mechon L'Hoyroa in Monsey, New York.
2. I completed a fifteen-year program of study at Mechon L'Hoyroa to become a rabbinical judge. The program included all four books of the Shulchan Aruch and not just the first two books, which are commonly studied in four or five years.
3. My religious faith requires me to pass along the knowledge and wisdom that I have acquired to a new generation of rabbinical judges. There are not enough rabbinical judges to serve all of the Jewish communities that need them.

Without passing along the knowledge and wisdom that I have acquired, our complex religious laws will no longer be known and understood.

4. I sincerely believe that there is a significant religious need for rabbinical judges in the Orthodox Jewish community and that the Rabbinical College is necessary to satisfy that need.

5. Because of the shortage of programs for rabbinical judges, this need for such religious education goes unfilled, contrary to my religious beliefs. I have been selected and approved by the Congregation Rabbinical College of Tartikov ("Rabbinical College") to be a lecturer when the College opens in Pomona. If the Rabbinical College does not open, there is no place for me to lecture to continue our tradition.

6. Without a program where I can lecture to rabbinical scholars, my religious beliefs cannot be fully realized.

7. Because of the teaching environment, I also plan on residing at the Property so that I can be available for the students during all times of instruction which goes throughout the day and night.

8. I affirm this affidavit pursuant to my religious beliefs.
